THE VOID

Working Title

INT. ROOM - UNDEFINED

A black orb fluctuates in the middle of the room. It emits a low, all-encompassing HUM. There is nothing else around it.

We hear the sound of a window breaking.

CAMERA SWINGS to find three people climbing through a broken window.

We see a young man [RE: Student], a man with a BLACK EYE [RE: Man] and a woman wearing a name tag saying "[INSERT NAME HERE]" [RE: Teacher].

The three of them turn to the orb, transfixed.

MAN
That's it.

STUDENT
I think so.

TEACHER
But what is it?

Their eyes stayed glued to the floating orb.

CAMERA continues TRACKING to the rest of the room at a LOW ANGLE.

There are objects scattered on the floor: books, money, a bicycle, silverware...

CAMERA keeps going. There is no door. The walls are mouldy.

CAMERA reaches the side of the room opposite the characters to finds an OVERTURNED STOOL.

CAMERA slowly rises: we see feet, then legs, torso, arms and head of a MAN HANGING from the ceiling.

CAMERA keeps turning, we get on the orb again. It keeps humming, but it's getting louder.

It keeps going until it closes its circle on the characters.

They haven't moved.

We hear a loud thump.

It captures the characters attention. The humming stops.

As soon as she sees the body, the woman starts screaming in terror.

STUDENT
Who is that?

TEACHER
(screaming)
I don't know.

The woman drops to the floor in dispair.

The student and the man stand still, unable to understand.

MAN
I'm so sorry.

STUDENT
(without turning)
About what?